Never enter without a permit, confined spaces can be fatal.

Use this Outline to help your employees understand why any unauthorized entry into confined spaces is strictly controlled, illegal, unpredictable and possibly fatal. Obviously Homer isn't concerned about the confined space rules included in this SafetyWorld Outline; his donut is more important. Our listings of authorized procedures and the correct use of necessary entry permits will help.

Never enter Confined Spaces without a needed Permit

A permit, a safety check, safety gear and proper supervision are needed before entering permit-required confined spaces.

Workers have been trapped and died in confined spaces, almost always in circumstances that were completely unexpected and caught workers by surprise. To make sure that doesn't happen:

Follow the rules.
It's essential that highly trained workers be authorized to enter a "permit space" without a permit.

Before allowing entry to a Permit-Required Confined Space,

- All quality tests are performed.
- The site is inspected and made safe.
- A person specified in our written confined space program issues a temporary permit.
- Ventilation, retrieval lines, and suitable PPE are provided.
- An attendant is stationed outside the space.
- Only employees having a valid permit, and who follow the steps laid out in the permit, may enter.
